By air:
There is only one international airport in Prague, the Ruzyně airport. It is located on the west side of the city (see map).
Czech airlines fly to Prague from all over the world, including overseas destinations (JFK, Montreal, Toronto), most of the major European cities (London, Paris, Milan, etc.) and even Seoul, Dubai, Cairo and Tel Aviv. Czech Airlines is a member of the Skyteam. To see all the possible destinations, click http://www.csa.cz/en/czechia/cz_destinace/destinace.htm
The airport is divided into two terminals, North-1 and North-2 (South is a non-public unused one). Flights from the Schengen countries arrive at North-2, others on North-1. There is no monorail, even though the walk is quite long, especially from North-2.

The way from the airport to the venue and the discounted hotels except hotel Krystal:
- either take a taxi (it should cost about CZK 600,-).
- or use a CEDAZ airport shuttle, which you will find in front of the arrival hall, to get to any hotel around the centre of Prague. It should cost about CZK 480,-
- or rent a car. The usual car rental companies (Avis, Hertz, Budget, Europcar, Sixt) and many other national ones are in the ground floor of the North-1 terminal building
- Or take the 119 bus to the Dejvická station. Be careful about the direction, yours is Dejvická. Otherwise you might end up in the middle of nowhere. Then
  - either the underground line A (green) 2 stops to "Malostranská" and then any of the tram lines 22, 23, 20, 12 to "Malostranské náměstí" (1 stop),
  - or the tram line 20 directly to "Malostranské Náměstí" (5 stops).

To hotel Krystal:
- either take a taxi (call 14014 for the AAA taxi - it should be the cheapest as the airport service has a fixed rate CZK 600,- to Prague, which is normal for the centre but Krystal is much closer).
- or use bus no. 119 or 179 to station "Divoká Šárka" and then tram no. 20 or 26 to station "Nad Džbánem". Get off and walk the little street on your right (facing the direction of the tram). After about 50m turn left and walk along the street "José Martího". After about 300m the hotel should be in front of you.
- or use the CEDAZ airport shuttle, which you will find in front of the arrival hall. It should cost about CZK 480,-

From hotel Krystal to the venue:
Go back to the main road the tram used. Get on line no. 20 and go all the way to "Malostranské náměstí" (14 stops, direction "Sídliště Barrandov").
By train:
Trains from Western Europe usually arrive at the Holešovice railway station, others on the main station (for both see map)

The way to the venue and all the discounted hotels except Krystal:
From the Main railway station:
Take the underground line C (red, direction "Háje") to the "Muzeum" station (1 stop). Then change lines to A (green, direction "Depo Hostivař”) and go 3 stops to "Malostranská” and then take the tram line 23 to "Malostranské náměstí" (1 stop).
From the Holešovice railway station:
Take the underground line C (red, direction "Háje") and go 4 stops to "Muzeum". Then change lines to A (green, direction "Depo Hostivař”) and go 5 stops to Dejvická (end station). Use the tram direction "Divoká Šárka" (no. 20/26) and get off at the station "Nad Džbánem". Then walk the little street on your left (facing the direction of the tram). After about 50m turn left and walk along the street "José Martího". After about 300m the hotel should be in front of you.

From hotel Krystal to the venue:
Go back to the main road the tram used. Get on line no. 20 and go all the way to "Malostranské náměstí" (14 stops, direction "Sidliště Barrandov").
By car
Note: There aren't almost any parking capacities near the Music Academy and the discounted hotels. In fact there is only one within walking distance from the hotels, and it is very limited (50 places). The price is CZK 40,-/hour (EUR 1,- = ca. CZK 28,-) Only hotel Krystal, which is quite far from the venue, has a parking lot. However, some of the hotels might have cheaper parking service (but only valet, no self-parking there). Please contact the hotels directly and ask.

From the west: (e. g. Germany, France, Switzerland,...)
Take the E50 westward (no. 6 highway from Nürnberg) and cross the border at the Rozvadov - Waidhaus border crossing. Then follow the D5 highway via Pilsen all the way to Prague. (see map)
To the venue and all the discounted hotels except hotel Krystal:
Follow the D5 all the way to the end, crossing the beltway. Then take a left turn (northward, direction Veleslavín, Střešovice, Hradčany). Cross the next intersection straight and on the next one take a right turn (still Veleslavín, Střešovice Hradčany, maybe Holešovice)(about 4000m from the end of D5). The street is called "Bělohorská" (no.6). On the next crossing go slightly left ("Patočková", still no.6). Soon, it will change to "Milady Horákové" but the number 6 will stay. Then just before entering a wide open space with two stadiums (if you are already there, it is too far) and in front of the Israeli embassy turn right to "Badeniho" (about 5000 m from joining no. 6 - "Bělohorská" ), which will soon change to "Chotková" and make a double bend. Enjoy the view of Prague on the left. After the double bend take the first street to the right (1100 m from the last crossing). It will bring you to Malostranské náměstí (500 m). Then, according to the map on accommodation page, find your hotel.

To hotel Krystal:
When the D5 comes to the beltway, go northward (direction airport, Hostivice, Slaný). On the second exit (1800m), go towards Vokovice and Dejvice. It will take you to the "Evropská" street. Pass an Esso gas station on the right, a tram turning point on the left and another gas station, this time Shell (about 3000 m). Then take the next possible right turn, continue for about 50m and turn left towards hotel Krystal (about 300m).
From hotel Krystal to the venue:
Go back to the main road the tram used. Get on line no. 20 and go all the way to "Malostranské náměstí" (14 stops, direction "Sídliště Barrandov").
From the north: (e. g. Berlin,...)
Once in Dresden, take the E55 southward, passing the Czech border at the Zinnwald - Cínovec border crossing. Then continue along the E55 via Teplice and join the D8 highway near Lovosice. It will take you all the way to Prague. (see map)

To the venue and all the discounted hotels except hotel Krystal:
Follow the D8 all the way to the end, when it becomes "V Holešovičkách" (after crossing a highway-like intersection straight). Then continue on "V Holešovičkách", cross the river, go under a railway bridge and around a station. Then, when you come to the river once more (3500 m from the end of D8), take a right turn and follow the tram ("nábřeží Edvarda Beneše") along the river. Then, when you come to a tram station (2500 m from the right turn to the river), turn right and almost immediately left again, to avoid going on the double bend the road makes. Then follow this one-way road to "Malostranské náměstí" (300 m). Then, according to the map on the accommodation page, find your hotel.

To hotel Krystal:
Follow the D8 all the way to the end, when it becomes "V Holešovičkách" (after crossing a highway-like intersection straight). Then continue on "V Holešovičkách", cross the river, go under a railway bridge, then turn right as soon as possible (2500 m from the end of D8). Then keep going around the exhibition ground, crossing the railway twice. Then, when you come to a T-like crossing, turn right (ca. 1500m). Pass a giant stadium on your right (after another 1500m) and a big tram station. Turn right on the next crossing. This will take you to a big roundabout. Use the third big road to get off (direction airport, "Evropská" street). Follow it until you pass two gas stations (about 4000 m from the roundabout) in quick succession - an Esso and an OMV (there shouldn't be any other on the way from the roundabout). Then take the next possible left turn, continue for about 50m and turn left towards hotel Krystal (about 300m).

From hotel Krystal to the venue:
Go back to the main road the tram used. Get on line no. 20 and go all the way to "Malostranské náměstí" (14 stops, direction "Sídliště Barrandov").
From the northeast: (e.g. Wroclaw, Warsaw,...)
From Wroclaw take the E67 southward and follow it all the way via the Náchod and Hradec Králové to join the D11 highway near Chlumec nad Cidlinou. This will take you to Prague. (see map)

To the venue and all the discounted hotels except hotel Krystal:
The D11 ends on the beltway. Follow the beltway southward (direction Brno, Plzeň, Strakonice). Exit it towards Centrum, Nusle (after about 12 000 m). Follow it until it splits into two one-way streets (about 5000 m from the exit). Then, on the third red light turn left (Anglická, Žitná, also one-way). Then, on the fourth red light, turn left (again one-way) and on the next one right to cross the river after the next one. Then, on the fourth light after the bridge turn right ("Štefánikova") with the tram. Follow it, crossing many red lights (about 1500m), to "Malostranské náměstí". Then, according to the map on the accommodation page, find your hotel.

To hotel Krystal:
The D11 ends on the beltway. Follow the beltway northward (Brandýs nad Labem, Stará Boleslav) and on the next exit go towards Centrum, Černý Most, Vysočany. You should now be on road no. 10. Follow it until you come to the river (ca. 11 000 m). On the red light before a bridge and a tunnel and just after another short tunnel, turn left. Then turn immediately right to get on the bridge. Cross it and on the second red light turn left to "Veletržní" (500 m from the bridge). Pass a giant stadium on your right (after another 1500m) and a big tram station. Turn right on the next crossing. This will take you to a big roundabout. Use the third big road to get off (direction airport, "Evropská" street). Follow it until you pass two gas stations (about 4000 m from the roundabout) in quick succession - an Esso and an OMV (there shouldn't be any other on the way from the roundabout). Then take the next possible left turn, continue for about 50m and turn left towards hotel Krystal (about 300m).

From hotel Krystal to the venue:
Go back to the main road the tram used. Get on line no. 20 and go all the way to "Malostranské náměstí" (14 stops, direction "Sídliště Barrandov").
From the east: (e. g. Krakow, Slovakia, Hungary)
Use any suitable border crossing to get to Brno. Once there, take the D1 highway to Prague.
(see map)

To the venue and all the discounted hotels except hotel Krystal:
When the D1 splits, choose the “Centrum, Nusle, Krč” direction. Cross the beltway and follow the street until it splits into two one-way streets (about 5000 m from the exit). Then, on the third red light turn left (Anglická, Žitná, also one-way). Then, on the fourth red light, turn left (again one-way) and on the next one right to cross the river after the next one. Then, on the fourth light after the bridge turn right ("Štefánikova") with the tram. Follow it, crossing many red lights (about 1500m), to "Malostranské náměstí". Then, according to the map on the accommodation page, find your hotel.

To hotel Krystal:
When the D1 splits, choose the Centrum, Nusle, Krč direction. Keep driving straight until you come to the river (about 8000 m). Cross it and on the second red light turn left to "Veletržní". Pass a giant stadium on your right (after another 1500m) and a big tram station. Turn right on the next crossing. This will take you to a big roundabout. Use the third big road to get off (direction airport, "Evropská" street). Follow it until you pass two gas stations (about 4000 m from the roundabout) in quick succession - an Esso and an OMV (there shouldn't be any other on the way from the roundabout). Note: An electronic toll collection system is being built on the highways right now. We do not know if it will be finished by December. It only limits traffic to 80 km/h at certain places, but it can get annoying. If it won't be finished, then you will have to buy a vignette for using highways. They are sold at border crossings and some gas stations. The one with the shortest duration costs CZK 200,- and lasts 15 days. If the system will be in use, we will provide info here on how to use it. Furthermore, the D1 is well known for frequent traffic jams, as well as the Prague beltway. It is especially bad on Friday/Sunday afternoons. Drive safely!

- http://www.idos.cz is a very useful link to find your train, bus and public transport connection. Although it is Czech, it can find most of European railway stations and bus terminals.
  - Note: click the little English/German flag in the lower right corner to use the English/German version
- http://www.mapy.cz is a link to an electronic map of the Czech Republic with a very good search system. Just type the name or address of your hotel and it should find it.
- GPS coordinates of the venue: N 50°05'17.42", E 14°24'13.28"

The public transport is being recommended to you on this page. It is quite reliable and safe – safe to the extent as any Capital City may be, but certainly not safer. Beware of pickpockets!!! They are in action in the most frequented places as Wenceslas Square (Václavské náměstí), the Main Railway Station (Hlavní nádraží) and on metro stations and metro trains in the city centre. Also, some tram lines have a bad reputation – No. 22 and 23 going through the centre. Always try not to be alone when using trams at night.

The public transport recommended to you on this page has the following prices:
- one way with the possibility to change tram/bus/underground: CZK 20,-
- 3-day ticket: CZK 220,-
- 7-day ticket: CZK 280,-
- 10-day ticket: CZK 320,-

You can buy tickets in most cigar-shops, slot machines in underground stations, specialized public transport shops, at the airport or at railway stations.
